

RACE CLOTHING MANUF'G CO.

Manufacturers of All Kinds of WORKING * GOODS.

All Wool Custom Made Pants for $3.00.
Our Boys Suit for $1.50 has never been Equaled. Over 500 have been sold this season.

We have the Best Selected line of OVERCOATS
in the city. PRICES THE LOWEST.

WE ARE LEADERS IN Fine Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
MERCHANT TAILORING,
at Prices that cannot be duplicated, as we are manufacturers.
We can Save You Money.

RACE CLOTHING M'FG CO.,

129-135 North Water Street.

THE NEW STORE,

Next to Millikin's Bank, on Water street.

Will place on sale during the coming week a large assortment of

NEWMARKET * CLOAKS

At One-Half Cost Price.

These goods are of good value and will most certainly be the best bargains ever offered in Decatur.

The New Store,

NEXT TO MILLIKIN'S BANK.

S. HUMPHREYS.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

1/2 Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE QUICK AND DEAD

The New Heir Presumptive to the British Throne.

HIS GREAT DESIRE TO ENTER THE ARMY

Likely Now to be Gratiified—T. P. O'Connor's Tribute to the Dead Prince—A Tribute to the Late Cardinal Manning.

The New Heir Presumptive.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—All eyes are turned toward Prince George, who had hitherto attracted no more notice than any ordinary sprig of royalty, but who now stands nearly within its rays of the "Fierce light which beats upon the throne." In an interview to-day, Commander Robinson, R. N., who has enjoyed unusual opportunities of intimacy with Prince George in the way of official association, expressed to the correspondent of the United Press his belief, based upon his knowledge of Prince George's personal desires, that the new heir presumptive will retire from the navy and realize his long-cherished wish to enter the army. Despite the denials that have come to the time appeared, it remains true that the prince has frequently rebelled against a naval career, and the clashing between his wishes and those of his father and the queen recently reached a climax, the prince declaring that he would not serve in the navy any longer unless given a first-class command, as he was tired of being an underling, especially in a service which was, even at the best, distasteful to him as compared with that of the army. The change in his position which has now occurred will, of course, cause greater deference to be paid to his wishes, and he will, no doubt, soon be transferred to a suitable rank in the army.

The characteristics of the prince are now being discussed with the interest naturally felt in the personality of a probable future ruler of the people. Among other things it is stated that Prince George has a strong feeling of antipathy for the newspaper, and that he is in this respect the Duke of Cambridge. He is honest and frank in his manners, albeit rather rough. In conversation he is anything but refined, and makes frequent use of "strange oaths," evidently learned in all parts of the world, and among all the people where his wandering sailor life has led him. It may reasonably be expected, however, that with increased responsibility and publicity he will amend his manners and conversation to more perfect fitness with his position in life. Taken all in all, the English people seem satisfied that the line of royal succession, so far as it is assured, is made up of good material.

T. P. O'Connor on the Dead Prince.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—T. P. O'Connor, yesterday's Sun, says, in discussing the death of the Duke of Clarence: "I think the man who reigned monarch as the highest embodiment of that ideal of character which is one of the great evil forces that reformers would have destroyed, are those who feel the deepest sympathy with royalty in its personal bereavements. Those either desiring not asking anything of royalty are much readier to see the man and woman behind the prince and princess, and to give that sympathy which common experience enables them to offer. The grief over the death of the Duke of Clarence is not wholly free from a desire to atone for a very strong impression that his life was not quite so happy as it might have been. He was supposed to be unintelligent, and some very stupid people found this the occasion for a sneer, as though there were not plenty of fellows with an abundance of brains who possess neither conscience nor heart. The duke was slighted by some of his foreign relatives as well as by some of his subjects. But none of these things, however, have been better understood. It is clear that he was an affectionate, warm-hearted lad, deeply attached to his mother, and all his family, and showing first in their affections, as well as in those of many other relatives. His name will go down in history as that of one honored and loved."

The Report of the Indian Leprosy Commission.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—The report of the leprosy commission, which has just been printed in India, and as soon as it reaches London, is referred to a special committee consisting of representatives of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons and of the National Leprosy fund, by whom it will be exhaustively considered, with a view to drawing up a report upon it embodying various suggestions and recommendations of a practical nature, based upon the conclusions at which the commission has arrived. This report after being finally decided upon, will then be submitted to the executive committee of the fund, which will ultimately determine what further steps shall be taken in the matter. It is not thought that the opinion expressed by the commission in their report will in any way promote alarm in regard to the contagiousness of the disease.

The Proposed Social Labor Demonstration.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—The plans of the socialists for their proposed great labor demonstration at Wembley, had, it is seen, on Sunday, January 8, are not yet fully matured. Great preparations, however, are being made for the event. It is expected that fully 300,000 people will assemble. Fifty speakers have been arranged for. A meeting of the leaders has been called for Wednesday, at which plans will be outlined. It is almost certain, however, that the use of the police as the only ones that will be carried out. These involve the total suppression of the proposed procession.

THE QUICK AND DEAD

The New Heir Presumptive to the British Throne.

HIS GREAT DESIRE TO ENTER THE ARMY

Likely Now to be Gratiified—T. P. O'Connor's Tribute to the Dead Prince—A Tribute to the Late Cardinal Manning.

The New Heir Presumptive.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—All eyes are turned toward Prince George, who had hitherto attracted no more notice than any ordinary sprig of royalty, but who now stands nearly within its rays of the "Fierce light which beats upon the throne." In an interview to-day, Commander Robinson, R. N., who has enjoyed unusual opportunities of intimacy with Prince George in the way of official association, expressed to the correspondent of the United Press his belief, based upon his knowledge of Prince George's personal desires, that the new heir presumptive will retire from the navy and realize his long-cherished wish to enter the army. Despite the denials that have come to the time appeared, it remains true that the prince has frequently rebelled against a naval career, and the clashing between his wishes and those of his father and the queen recently reached a climax, the prince declaring that he would not serve in the navy any longer unless given a first-class command, as he was tired of being an underling, especially in a service which was, even at the best, distasteful to him as compared with that of the army. The change in his position which has now occurred will, of course, cause greater deference to be paid to his wishes, and he will, no doubt, soon be transferred to a suitable rank in the army.

The characteristics of the prince are now being discussed with the interest naturally felt in the personality of a probable future ruler of the people. Among other things it is stated that Prince George has a strong feeling of antipathy for the newspaper, and that he is in this respect the Duke of Cambridge. He is honest and frank in his manners, albeit rather rough. In conversation he is anything but refined, and makes frequent use of "strange oaths," evidently learned in all parts of the world, and among all the people where his wandering sailor life has led him. It may reasonably be expected, however, that with increased responsibility and publicity he will amend his manners and conversation to more perfect fitness with his position in life. Taken all in all, the English people seem satisfied that the line of royal succession, so far as it is assured, is made up of good material.

T. P. O'Connor on the Dead Prince.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—T. P. O'Connor, yesterday's Sun, says, in discussing the death of the Duke of Clarence: "I think the man who reigned monarch as the highest embodiment of that ideal of character which is one of the great evil forces that reformers would have destroyed, are those who feel the deepest sympathy with royalty in its personal bereavements. Those either desiring not asking anything of royalty are much readier to see the man and woman behind the prince and princess, and to give that sympathy which common experience enables them to offer. The grief over the death of the Duke of Clarence is not wholly free from a desire to atone for a very strong impression that his life was not quite so happy as it might have been. He was supposed to be unintelligent, and some very stupid people found this the occasion for a sneer, as though there were not plenty of fellows with an abundance of brains who possess neither conscience nor heart. The duke was slighted by some of his foreign relatives as well as by some of his subjects. But none of these things, however, have been better understood. It is clear that he was an affectionate, warm-hearted lad, deeply attached to his mother, and all his family, and showing first in their affections, as well as in those of many other relatives. His name will go down in history as that of one honored and loved."

The Report of the Indian Leprosy Commission.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—The report of the leprosy commission, which has just been printed in India, and as soon as it reaches London, is referred to a special committee consisting of representatives of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons and of the National Leprosy fund, by whom it will be exhaustively considered, with a view to drawing up a report upon it embodying various suggestions and recommendations of a practical nature, based upon the conclusions at which the commission has arrived. This report after being finally decided upon, will then be submitted to the executive committee of the fund, which will ultimately determine what further steps shall be taken in the matter. It is not thought that the opinion expressed by the commission in their report will in any way promote alarm in regard to the contagiousness of the disease.

The Proposed Social Labor Demonstration.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—The plans of the socialists for their proposed great labor demonstration at Wembley, had, it is seen, on Sunday, January 8, are not yet fully matured. Great preparations, however, are being made for the event. It is expected that fully 300,000 people will assemble. Fifty speakers have been arranged for. A meeting of the leaders has been called for Wednesday, at which plans will be outlined. It is almost certain, however, that the use of the police as the only ones that will be carried out. These involve the total suppression of the proposed procession.

THE QUICK AND DEAD

The New Heir Presumptive to the British Throne.

HIS GREAT DESIRE TO ENTER THE ARMY

Likely Now to be Gratiified—T. P. O'Connor's Tribute to the Dead Prince—A Tribute to the Late Cardinal Manning.

The New Heir Presumptive.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—All eyes are turned toward Prince George, who had hitherto attracted no more notice than any ordinary sprig of royalty, but who now stands nearly within its rays of the "Fierce light which beats upon the throne." In an interview to-day, Commander Robinson, R. N., who has enjoyed unusual opportunities of intimacy with Prince George in the way of official association, expressed to the correspondent of the United Press his belief, based upon his knowledge of Prince George's personal desires, that the new heir presumptive will retire from the navy and realize his long-cherished wish to enter the army. Despite the denials that have come to the time appeared, it remains true that the prince has frequently rebelled against a naval career, and the clashing between his wishes and those of his father and the queen recently reached a climax, the prince declaring that he would not serve in the navy any longer unless given a first-class command, as he was tired of being an underling, especially in a service which was, even at the best, distasteful to him as compared with that of the army. The change in his position which has now occurred will, of course, cause greater deference to be paid to his wishes, and he will, no doubt, soon be transferred to a suitable rank in the army.

The characteristics of the prince are now being discussed with the interest naturally felt in the personality of a probable future ruler of the people. Among other things it is stated that Prince George has a strong feeling of antipathy for the newspaper, and that he is in this respect the Duke of Cambridge. He is honest and frank in his manners, albeit rather rough. In conversation he is anything but refined, and makes frequent use of "strange oaths," evidently learned in all parts of the world, and among all the people where his wandering sailor life has led him. It may reasonably be expected, however, that with increased responsibility and publicity he will amend his manners and conversation to more perfect fitness with his position in life. Taken all in all, the English people seem satisfied that the line of royal succession, so far as it is assured, is made up of good material.

T. P. O'Connor on the Dead Prince.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—T. P. O'Connor, yesterday's Sun, says, in discussing the death of the Duke of Clarence: "I think the man who reigned monarch as the highest embodiment of that ideal of character which is one of the great evil forces that reformers would have destroyed, are those who feel the deepest sympathy with royalty in its personal bereavements. Those either desiring not asking anything of royalty are much readier to see the man and woman behind the prince and princess, and to give that sympathy which common experience enables them to offer. The grief over the death of the Duke of Clarence is not wholly free from a desire to atone for a very strong impression that his life was not quite so happy as it might have been. He was supposed to be unintelligent, and some very stupid people found this the occasion for a sneer, as though there were not plenty of fellows with an abundance of brains who possess neither conscience nor heart. The duke was slighted by some of his foreign relatives as well as by some of his subjects. But none of these things, however, have been better understood. It is clear that he was an affectionate, warm-hearted lad, deeply attached to his mother, and all his family, and showing first in their affections, as well as in those of many other relatives. His name will go down in history as that of one honored and loved."

The Report of the Indian Leprosy Commission.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—The report of the leprosy commission, which has just been printed in India, and as soon as it reaches London, is referred to a special committee consisting of representatives of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons and of the National Leprosy fund, by whom it will be exhaustively considered, with a view to drawing up a report upon it embodying various suggestions and recommendations of a practical nature, based upon the conclusions at which the commission has arrived. This report after being finally decided upon, will then be submitted to the executive committee of the fund, which will ultimately determine what further steps shall be taken in the matter. It is not thought that the opinion expressed by the commission in their report will in any way promote alarm in regard to the contagiousness of the disease.

The Proposed Social Labor Demonstration.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—The plans of the socialists for their proposed great labor demonstration at Wembley, had, it is seen, on Sunday, January 8, are not yet fully matured. Great preparations, however, are being made for the event. It is expected that fully 300,000 people will assemble. Fifty speakers have been arranged for. A meeting of the leaders has been called for Wednesday, at which plans will be outlined. It is almost certain, however, that the use of the police as the only ones that will be carried out. These involve the total suppression of the proposed procession.

THE QUICK AND DEAD

The New Heir Presumptive to the British Throne.

HIS GREAT DESIRE TO ENTER THE ARMY

Likely Now to be Gratiified—T. P. O'Connor's Tribute to the Dead Prince—A Tribute to the Late Cardinal Manning.

The New Heir Presumptive.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—All eyes are turned toward Prince George, who had hitherto attracted no more notice than any ordinary sprig of royalty, but who now stands nearly within its rays of the "Fierce light which beats upon the throne." In an interview to-day, Commander Robinson, R. N., who has enjoyed unusual opportunities of intimacy with Prince George in the way of official association, expressed to the correspondent of the United Press his belief, based upon his knowledge of Prince George's personal desires, that the new heir presumptive will retire from the navy and realize his long-cherished wish to enter the army. Despite the denials that have come to the time appeared, it remains true that the prince has frequently rebelled against a naval career, and the clashing between his wishes and those of his father and the queen recently reached a climax, the prince declaring that he would not serve in the navy any longer unless given a first-class command, as he was tired of being an underling, especially in a service which was, even at the best, distasteful to him as compared with that of the army. The change in his position which has now occurred will, of course, cause greater deference to be paid to his wishes, and he will, no doubt, soon be transferred to a suitable rank in the army.

The characteristics of the prince are now being discussed with the interest naturally felt in the personality of a probable future ruler of the people. Among other things it is stated that Prince George has a strong feeling of antipathy for the newspaper, and that he is in this respect the Duke of Cambridge. He is honest and frank in his manners, albeit rather rough. In conversation he is anything but refined, and makes frequent use of "strange oaths," evidently learned in all parts of the world, and among all the people where his wandering sailor life has led him. It may reasonably be expected, however, that with increased responsibility and publicity he will amend his manners and conversation to more perfect fitness with his position in life. Taken all in all, the English people seem satisfied that the line of royal succession, so far as it is assured, is made up of good material.

T. P. O'Connor on the Dead Prince.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—T. P. O'Connor, yesterday's Sun, says, in discussing the death of the Duke of Clarence: "I think the man who reigned monarch as the highest embodiment of that ideal of character which is one of the great evil forces that reformers would have destroyed, are those who feel the deepest sympathy with royalty in its personal bereavements. Those either desiring not asking anything of royalty are much readier to see the man and woman behind the prince and princess, and to give that sympathy which common experience enables them to offer. The grief over the death of the Duke of Clarence is not wholly free from a desire to atone for a very strong impression that his life was not quite so happy as it might have been. He was supposed to be unintelligent, and some very stupid people found this the occasion for a sneer, as though there were not plenty of fellows with an abundance of brains who possess neither conscience nor heart. The duke was slighted by some of his foreign relatives as well as by some of his subjects. But none of these things, however, have been better understood. It is clear that he was an affectionate, warm-hearted lad, deeply attached to his mother, and all his family, and showing first in their affections, as well as in those of many other relatives. His name will go down in history as that of one honored and loved."

The Report of the Indian Leprosy Commission.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—The report of the leprosy commission, which has just been printed in India, and as soon as it reaches London, is referred to a special committee consisting of representatives of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons and of the National Leprosy fund, by whom it will be exhaustively considered, with a view to drawing up a report upon it embodying various suggestions and recommendations of a practical nature, based upon the conclusions at which the commission has arrived. This report after being finally decided upon, will then be submitted to the executive committee of the fund, which will ultimately determine what further steps shall be taken in the matter. It is not thought that the opinion expressed by the commission in their report will in any way promote alarm in regard to the contagiousness of the disease.

The Proposed Social Labor Demonstration.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—The plans of the socialists for their proposed great labor demonstration at Wembley, had, it is seen, on Sunday, January 8, are not yet fully matured. Great preparations, however, are being made for the event. It is expected that fully 300,000 people will assemble. Fifty speakers have been arranged for. A meeting of the leaders has been called for Wednesday, at which plans will be outlined. It is almost certain, however, that the use of the police as the only ones that will be carried out. These involve the total suppression of the proposed procession.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

—Sir Edward Arnold has recovered from the grip.

—The illness of the queen is officially denied by the court physicians.

—An Sable, Mich., suffered from a conflagration, Saturday, which destroyed nineteen buildings and left 2000 homeless.

—The imports of specie at New York for last week amounted to $14,000, of which $10,000 was gold and $4,000 silver.

—Hon. Charles H. Aldrich, of Chicago, has been selected to succeed Mr. Tift as solicitor-general of the United States.

—Exports of gold from New York for last week were $2,000, mostly to South America.

—Exports of silver from New York for last week were $1,000, mostly to London.

—The handsome Presbyterian church on Connecticut avenue and 19th street, Washington, was seriously damaged by fire Saturday afternoon.

—The commission of pensions has made a requisition on the treasury department for $12,000,000 to pay pensions for the next three months.

—At the close of business Saturday the treasury department had received $2,200,000 for and paid out $1,000,000, leaving a balance of $1,200,000.

—Hon. St. Clair does not regard the passage of the bill for the reorganization of the army as a step toward a general reorganization of the government.

—The bill for the reorganization of the army is held in abeyance by the senate.

—Gov. Hovey of Colorado will grant a reprieve in the case of a convict if it becomes apparent that the convict is insane.

—The Champion (Roller) mill was destroyed by fire Saturday night, losing $100,000, partially insured.

—The fire at the mill destroyed a mill between Russia and England has failed. Exports from the latter to the former country will be stopped until the mill is reorganized.

—The funeral of Cardinal Manning will be held at the Hampton street church to-morrow. The services will be of the most elaborate character, and are expected to last about two hours and a half.

—The New York Jeweled association met Saturday, and discussed the bill pending in the state legislature for an appropriation of $100,000 for the New York exhibit at the World's Fair at Chicago.

—The funeral of the Duke of Clarence and Anne, the late heir presumptive to the throne of England, who died last Thursday morning at Sandringham, will take place at Sandringham on Saturday.

—Mrs. Marion Hedges, alias Miss Magraw, was arrested Saturday night at St. Louis, Mo., by train robbers, and is being held by the police.

—Judge Lindsey of Kentucky, whose nomination as a member of the interstate commerce commission was rejected by the senate, is expected to be nominated by the senate.

—The president Saturday stated that he had decided to decline the nomination of Mr. Charles Villiers, "father of the House of Commons," to be ambassador to the United States.

—The president Saturday stated that he had decided to decline the nomination of Mr. Charles Villiers, "father of the House of Commons," to be ambassador to the United States.

—The president Saturday stated that he had decided to decline the nomination of Mr. Charles Villiers, "father of the House of Commons," to be ambassador to the United States.

NOT YET WITHDRAWN

The Offensive Note of Minister Matta Still Unavowed

By the Events of the Past Few Days—The Very Offer to Withdraw It—Made the Basis of a New Affront.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The Chilean situation has not been improved by the developments of the past few days which have not just come to light. As was stated in the United Press dispatches a few days ago, the offensive note of Senator Matta, minister of foreign affairs in the provisional government of Chile, was a direct insult to the United States. A day or two ago, however, Senator Pedro Montt, the Chilean minister, was instructed by his government to withdraw it, and it is understood that the offer of withdrawal was accompanied by considerations of explanation by the Chilean government which were unsatisfactory to the United States. Minister Egan, it was understood, was to communicate to Senator Matta, minister of foreign affairs, the dissatisfaction of this government with the terms of the withdrawal, but his interview with that official is said to have resulted in no modification of the instructions to Senator Montt, which would render them acceptable to the United States.

No confirmation can be had of this report that Minister Egan has communicated to President Harrison an intimation that the Chilean government is on the verge of dissolution, and that the fact prevented the president from sending the Chilean correspondence to congress last week. It is most improbable, though, that a basis of change of administration in Chile is a matter of a short time only held by some well informed persons in Washington. But Egan does not communicate with President Harrison; his dispatches are to the secretary of state and such a breach as communicating with the president direct would be sufficient reason for his immediate recall. Such a dispatch as that indicated has not been received at the department at least the officials deny all knowledge of it.

It is expected that orders will be sent, if they have not already gone, to Capt. Evans of the Yorktown, to carry the refugees placed aboard the ship by the Chilean government to some port in Peru, but the exact destination will probably be left to the discretion of the Yorktown's commander.

THE CHILIAN QUESTION.

Messages From Minister Egan—Naval Activity.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The state department received a message from Minister Egan yesterday, in regard to the Chilean situation. The message was of a nature to indicate the conflict of evidence over the character of wounds sustained by the Baltimore's sailors in the riot. The procurator in making up his final report on the testimony offered by the Americans as to the condition of the neckties of Sailor Johnson through which a ball passed, to sustain his assertion that the wounds inflicted upon the sailors could have been caused by carbines, with which the police are armed, but must have been caused by revolvers. Another message received to-day, the contents of which were not learned, but which was said to indicate a peaceful purpose of Chile, is supposed to refer to the arrest of two of the party who were charged with the murder of a few days ago, whose punishment is said to have been promised by Senator Peres, the Chilean foreign minister.

Secretary Blaine was seen by the United Press reporter, but he had nothing to say further than to deny the truth of some of the exaggerated rumors about the cabinet meeting Friday. At the navy department, there seems much business and activity all day long. The cipher code was in constant use, chiefly for the composition of messages to various squadrons and squadrons. The Newark, it is said, is at the state department, and is being ordered to the Norfolk navy-yard, although she may ultimately go to the West Indies. It is believed that Admiral Walker will be ordered to sail at once to the west coast of South America from Monterey where he arrived Friday and where his squadron of five vessels is at anchor.

It is said to-day that the Boston—what left Valparaiso a few days ago, as reported under orders for San Francisco, is at Callao, where her valves are being repaired, and that she will not be sent to San Francisco at all. Senator Matta, the Chilean minister, was seen yesterday by the United Press reporter, but he was not inclined to make any statement, saying he had nothing to communicate.

Johnny, Get Your Gun.
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 18.—A sensational report was received here last night forth that the war department had been calling upon the adjutant general for a statement of the composition of the national guard in the various states and the number of available men in case of war with Chile. Adj. Gen. Mullen, of this state, left last night for South Dakota, and in his absence his clerk would neither all in nor deny the report.

Whatever may be the situation in other states, some color is given to the report in Minnesota by the amount of activity which has recently been displayed in raising the efficiency of the state guards. For years the members of the guards have been urging for the formation of a brigade out of the three regiments of infantry, without success. The adjutant general has issued an order providing for the formation of a first brigade of the state, and without delay the officers of the regiments were called upon to elect a brigadier general.

Congressional Forecast.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The programme and work of congress this week will depend almost entirely on whether the president sends the Chilean correspondence to its respective branches. If the correspondence is sent in, and this is probable, no one can tell what the result may be. Within twenty-four hours after its receipt, congress might declare war. Nearly everything depends on

THE CHILIAN QUESTION.

Messages From Minister Egan—Naval Activity.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The state department received a message from Minister Egan yesterday, in regard to the Chilean situation. The message was of a nature to indicate the conflict of evidence over the character of wounds sustained by the Baltimore's sailors in the riot. The procurator in making up his final report on the testimony offered by the Americans as to the condition of the neckties of Sailor Johnson through which a ball passed, to sustain his assertion that the wounds inflicted upon the sailors could have been caused by carbines, with which the police are armed, but must have been caused by revolvers. Another message received to-day, the contents of which were not learned, but which was said to indicate a peaceful purpose of Chile, is supposed to refer to the arrest of two of the party who were charged with the murder of a few days ago, whose punishment is said to have been promised by Senator Peres, the Chilean foreign minister.

Secretary Blaine was seen by the United Press reporter, but he had nothing to say further than to deny the truth of some of the exaggerated rumors about the cabinet meeting Friday. At the navy department, there seems much business and activity all day long. The cipher code was in constant use, chiefly for the composition of messages to various squadrons and squadrons. The Newark, it is said, is at the state department, and is being ordered to the Norfolk navy-yard, although she may ultimately go to the West Indies. It is believed that Admiral Walker will be ordered to sail at once to the west coast of South America from Monterey where he arrived Friday and where his squadron of five vessels is at anchor.

It is said to-day that the Boston—what left Valparaiso a few days ago, as reported under orders for San Francisco, is at Callao, where her valves are being repaired, and that she will not be sent to San Francisco at all. Senator Matta, the Chilean minister, was seen yesterday by the United Press reporter, but he was not inclined to make any statement, saying he had nothing to communicate.

Johnny, Get Your Gun.
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 18.—A sensational report was received here last night forth that the war department had been calling upon the adjutant general for a statement of the composition of the national guard in the various states and the number of available men in case of war with Chile. Adj. Gen. Mullen, of this state, left last night for South Dakota, and in his absence his clerk would neither all in nor deny the report.

Whatever may be the situation in other states, some color is given to the report in Minnesota by the amount of activity which has recently been displayed in raising the efficiency of the state guards. For years the members of the guards have been urging for the formation of a brigade out of the three regiments of infantry, without success. The adjutant general has issued an order providing for the formation of a first brigade of the state, and without delay the officers of the regiments were called upon to elect a brigadier general.

Congressional Forecast.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The programme and work of congress this week will depend almost entirely on whether the president sends the Chilean correspondence to its respective branches. If the correspondence is sent in, and this is probable, no one can tell what the result may be. Within twenty-four hours after its receipt, congress might declare war. Nearly everything depends on

WINTER CLOTHING

WE HAVE AN ELEGANT ASSORTMENT OF Suits, Overcoats,
—AND—
Winter Clothing,
OF ALL KINDS,
Of which we wish to dispose, and it will repay you to look our stock through before purchasing.

WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD

and will meet the lowest prices given you by any other firm.

B. STINE CLOTHING CO.

Decatur, Illinois.

Proposed Settlement of the American Wheel Co.
KALAMAZOO, Mich., Jan. 18.—Norman C. Butler, receiver of the American Wheel trust, has proposed a settlement of 100 cents on the dollar, to be paid by September 1, 1892, in installments, and of which certain conditions. The Illinois Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago is named as trustee for the creditors. The latter will meet in Indianapolis, January 29 to consider the matter.

A Bloody Fight Between Sheepmen and Cowboys.
PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 18.—News has reached here of a bloody fight between sheepmen and cowboys in the White mountains of Apache county. Three sheepmen were killed and several cowboys badly wounded. More trouble is feared as the sheepmen have sent for reinforcements. The fight is the outgrowth of an old feud.

Killed by Touching an Electric Wire.
WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 18.—Ex-Councilman Reynolds was killed instantly last night by touching an electric wire and falling on a stairway wall and carelessly picked it up. The next instant his dead body lay several feet away. The only outward indication of the cause of death is a severely burned hand.

Nineteen Valuable Horses Burned to Death.
POMEROY, Neb., Jan. 17.—Early yesterday morning the livery and boarding barn of E. C. Smith burned, and with it nineteen head of valuable horses, several of which were worth $1,000 each, besides below $250. A large stock of buggies and carriages was destroyed. Loss, $30,000; insured.

Death of the Oldest Woman in Nebraska.
WALLACE, Neb., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Bridget Seidler, the oldest woman in this city, Saturday, from the grip. She was 119 years old. She retained her hearing and eyesight and was conversant in the English and German languages. She lived alone and done her own work.

Bradley Bros.

GREAT
Stock-Taking Sale
IS NOW GOING ON.

No Such Bargains

WERE EVER OFFERED IN

The Dry Goods Trade

IN THIS CITY.

CORNER OF
Water and William sts
Bradley Bros.
Decatur, Ill.

Agents Jouvin Kid Gloves and Hemsley Silks.

OUR ANNUAL SALE

OF

Odd Pieces in Silver

COMMENCES TO-DAY, JAN. 14.

In this sale we offer a great many odd Coffee-Pots, Tea-Pots, Sugars, Creamers and Spoon-Holders.

These goods are accumulated during our heavy Holiday sales by customers who buy all of a tea set but one or two pieces. We must either match them up and show the same style of sets this spring or sell them cheap. We prefer to take the latter course and find our customers appreciate the opportunity to get

Coffee and Tea Pots for - - $5.00
Sugar and Creamers, - - - 5.00
Syrup Jugs, - - - - - 4.00
Spoon-Holders, - - - - - 3.00

Which in a regular way would cost twice this amount.

OTTO E. CURTIS & BRO.,
Jewelers and Dealers in China.

WE ARE GOING TO GIVE YOU A DONATION PARTY

For the Next Thirty Days.

OUR PROFITS ON ALL
Heavy Overcoats.
You are Cordially Invited.
BRYAN, JONES & CO.
4 Doors West of Post Office.

I am laden with freight
From the golden gate.
To lands across the sea.

I carry sweet hope
With SANTA CLAUS
SOAP,
As a cargo
clear as can be.

SANTA CLAUS SOAP
made only by
N.K. FAIRBANK & CO. CHICAGO.
ASK YOUR GROCER FOR IT.
1892=1855=37

We have left behind us another milestone on the highway of our business career, and are now entering upon the 37th year of entering to the wants of the public.

We will, as heretofore, aim to please, and you can rest assured that the best of everything to be found in a first-class meat market will always be offered you.

Thanking you for past patronage bestowed and respectfully soliciting a continuance of the same we remain,

Imboden Bros.

DAILY REPUBLICAN.

+ OYSTERS +

Lunch

WOOD'S.

MONDAY EVE. JAN. 18, 1892.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

All English.
The sets we sell at $5.00, $7.50, $8.00, $8.50, $9.00, $10.00, are all English pure-bred, and we have plenty of them. We do not want you to miss this sale. E. L. BARTHOLOMEW & CO.
Denz & Son, tailors.
Oysters by the can at Wood's deo10-dew
Tazari, 88—Hoskins & Moore, dentists
LOWNEY'S fine chocolate at Wood's deo10-dew
DAISY air gun 87c. The 100 Store.
Buy your candies at Wood's. d10-dew
CHALLENGER air gun 87c. The 100 Store.

Home-made candies, fresh every day, at Wood's. deo10-dew
MAGNET Repeater $1.98 Ninety 9 Cent Store.
MAGNET Repeater 150 shot only $1.49 at the 99 Cent Store.
Kino air gun 59c. 312 N. Water.
We have the finest line of candies ever shown in Decatur. Wood's, 142 Merchant street. deo10-dew
JUDON WAGNER arrived this afternoon from Urbana, and resumed business in the circuit court.
On all-wool, fast-black hosiery at reduced prices to clear out stock. LINN & SCRUGGS D. G. & Co. d10-dew
Several of Blank & Green's printers are taking a lay-off today, because of some dispute about the union scales.
Born St. Louis trains were delayed today by the heavy storm. No. 4 was 30 minutes late, and No. 44 one hour and 10 minutes behind time.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

Death of Mrs. Silas Long.
The wife of Silas Long, formerly in the employ of O. Ewing at Bicycle Headquarters in Liberty Block, died in Chicago on Friday and was buried at Macon on Sunday, leaving a husband and three children. Deceased was well known in Decatur as a true woman and a devoted mother and wife. Her age was about 25 years.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Mrs. Lincoff Teaches the Sunday School in Fenton Block.

The Christian Science Sunday school, which is held every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Fenton block, was conducted yesterday by Mrs. Ellen Brown Lincoff of Denver, Colo., one of the leading exponents of Christian Science in this country. The lesson was the regular topic in the International series: Isaiah 28:1-13.

Mrs. Lincoff taught that the drunkards of Ephraim were not such merely from over-indulgence in wine, but from materialism; that as they looked for comfort and good in matter, matter became to them a god to be worshipped; that the deplorable state of this people was due to the fact that they did not recognize God's power to bestow upon them every comfort necessary to satisfy the soul, and the body as well. She taught that God had power to restore the body when out of repair, as well as the soul; that while Christian people admitted and held that all sickness was due to sin; that through the advent of sin came all the ills that flesh is subject to; that while this is admitted and it is conceded that God can restore the soul the Christiana world has fallen into the error of seeing that God can not restore the body as well as the soul. "God is a physician as well as a priest," she said. She held that these truths were scriptural truths and when accepted made Christianity complete and scientific.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.
W. C. Walker, aged 55 years, leaving a widow and five children in good circumstances, died this morning at 6:45 o'clock of pneumonia, at the Elm Grove Stock farm, near Macon, owned by the Breckenman Bros. of this city. A year ago the deceased experienced a severe attack of the grip, and last week he had another attack, but in a milder form. It developed into pneumonia, and resulted in death.

PERSONAL MENTION.

L. W. Cook is in Emory to-day on business.

L. W. Cook is in Emory to-day on business.
Miss Mattie Babcock is visiting friends in Macon.
Harb Johnson of Tazewell spent Sunday in this city.
L. McNabb has recovered from an attack of the grip.
A. T. Summers is recovering from an attack of the grip.
Lon O. Ellis returned Sunday from Battle Creek, Mich.
Attorney C. C. Leforge is in Hume, Ill., to-day on business.
Dr. H. C. Jones visited Elvin Sunday on professional business.
Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Davis, on Saturday, January 16—a son.
Mrs. Allen of Washington, D. C., is in Harrison visiting her son, E. W. Allen.
James Locher and family of Ocala, Fla., are in the city visiting relatives.
Born, to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Phillips, of Wheatland township, on Sunday, Jan. 17—a son.
Mrs. W. C. Pitzer who has been down with the grip for six weeks, is again able to be about.
Michael Troutman is slightly improved to-day. He is very restless and can not leave the house.
Born, to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kieran of 393 East Eldorado street, on Sunday, January 17, a daughter.
G. E. Tawell, who has been in the city for some time, is to-day for him home in Macon, Ga.
County Clerk Hardy is still confined to his home in R. 2nd Place. He is suffering with a very bad cold.
Born, to Mr. and Mrs. George W. Downing, of West William street, on Sunday, January 17—a son.
W. A. Devore and wife leave to-night for Macon and Urbana, where they will visit with friends and relatives for several weeks.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed B. Wright of Peoria, and Mrs. William Wright of Ocala, Fla., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Imboden.
Wesley H. Jamison, the sand man, is confined to his home, 872 South Broadway, with the grip. W. J. Olenovitch is the physician.
Rev. Dr. Peabodien will leave for Chicago to-morrow, accompanied by his son, who will be placed in a school in the northern part of the state for several weeks.
W. C. McNabb, who has been sick with the grip, was able to come up to the city to-day. His wife is still confined to her home.
James King of the Great Northern railroad, who has been in the city visiting Conductor Sears and family, on East Eldorado street, left to-day for his home in St. Paul.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of W. C. Walker, Manager of the Elm Grove Stock Farm.

OPEN ON SUNDAY.

The State Chicken Show—The Official Scores.

The state chicken show will close Wednesday night. All of the scores are in red, white and blue, and the winning birds are easily located. The exhibition was in progress all day Sunday. This fact occasioned some unfavorable criticism among the exhibitors and on the streets, but there was a general desire to get into the show, and the number of visitors was greater than on a week day.

THE AWARDS.
LIGHT BRAHMS.
Mrs. R. J. Dwyer, Cook—first, second and third, 195, 195 and 195. Cook—first, second and third, 195, 195 and 195. Hen—all premiums, 95, 95, 95, and 95. Pullet—first, second and third, 95, 95 and 95. Breeding pair—all premiums, 95, 95, 95 and 95. Lohren & Cravin, Sadoris: Cook—first, 95. Pullet—first, 95. Breeding pair—95. Lohren & Cravin, Sadoris: Cook—first, 95. Pullet—first, 95. Breeding pair—